Riviera Beach Club
As 'Sandpipers' Model

A Samoan prince and princess, their two princess daughters and a flood of court attendants made the Riviera Clubhouse, in Torrance, a stopping-point this week on their trip to Washington. Prince Kipeni Su'a, Princess Mualua Su'a and daughters Petuaio Su'a and Fua'ina Su'a explained that they were on an unofficial, informal good-will tour of the United States with Washington, D. C., their ultimate destination.

Prince Kipeni is a direct descendant of the former rulers of the 44 Samoan islands, some of which are under the protection of the United States and others governed by New Zealand. The islands, however, are independent, neutral territory in the Pacific Ocean, some 2000 miles from Hawaii.

After spending the day at the Clubhouse, while members of the court played table tennis, the group departed for their next stop. They plan to visit all important cities on their journey east.

The popular resort was a particularly busy scene on the occasion of the visit of the dignitaries and their entourage with the Hermosa Beach Sandpipers annual fashion show also on the agenda. Mrs. Robert R. Murphy and Mrs. Harry F. Brubaker, Jr. were the respective models for an old-fashioned "Gay 90's" type of bathing suit and the last word in swim suits.

Commander Lewis Harris, owner of the club, announces that the clubhouse will be the setting for the broadcast of the popular "Queen for a Day" program on Saturday, June 14.

Girl Scouts And Brownies Plan
Annual Day Camp

Girl Scouts and Brownies in this area are eagerly awaiting the opening dates for the Harbor Section Girl Scouts and Brownie Day camps to be held again this year at Torrance park during the month of July. With Mrs. Frank Church, director for the Girl Scout Day camp, reservations are now coming in, which indicates a much larger attendance than last year. Co-directors will be Mrs. Dorothy Brockelby and Mrs. Irene Ford with Mrs. Grace Wright acting again this year as registrar.

Under the competent guidance of Mrs. Sally Kirsch as director, the Brownie camp will open June 30 and continue every Monday and Wednesday for four weeks closing July 23. Mrs. Emily Palmer of Gardena, who has been on the staff at Girl Scout camp Oseta, will be co-director. The fee of $1.25 will be required from each girl attending either camp.

Girl Scouts have chosen the Indian theme again this year for their camp and a larger variety of crafts will be attractive to those attending. Mrs. Church announced this week the following new crafts which have been added to this year's program: wood carving, weaving, raffia work, leather, pottery, nature study as well as folk songs. Their camp will open June 24 and continue each Thursday and Thursday through June 24.

The Brownies, who have chosen the circus theme, will enjoy a craft program of raffia work, crayon printing, puppet shows, dramatics, clay work and many others. Cooking will also command attention of the members of the troops with planned menus and cooking committees chosen for each day's lunch hour. An attendance of between 150 and 175 for the Brownie camp is anticipated by Mrs. Kirsch, while Mrs. Church expects an equal percentage increase over last year's record attendance for the Girl Scout camp. Both camps are well staffed with leaders, but there is room for more if they wish to assist with this program.
